GREEN

THE SUSTAINABILITY AND VERSATILITY OF THE FABRICS FOR ENVIRONMENTALLY FRIENDLY SOLUTIONS

TO DESIGN A MORE SUSTAINABLE FUTURE, WE ARE FOCUSING ON FABRICS DERIVING FROM RECYCLED PLASTIC AND COTTON

In the textile world, recycled polyester or recycled PET is considered one of the fabrics with the lowest environmental impact. The fibre is, in fact, made from polymers obtained by recycling plastic bottles.

We also believe in recycled cotton, the result of the transformation of scrapes or second-hand clothes into a new cotton fibre that can be reused in textile garments diverting many clothes from landfills.

GORE-TEX

AT THE HEART OF GORE-TEX® PRODUCTS IS AN EXTREMELY THIN MEMBRANE THAT'S DURABLY WATERPROOF, WINDPROOF, AND BREATHABLE. IT HAS OVER 9 BILLION PORES PER SQUARE INCH.

WINDPROOF

The volume of air that passes through one cubic foot of fabric in one minute (cfm) is 1.0 or less, creating a truly windproof membrane.

BREATHABLE

The pores are 700 times larger than a water vapor molecule which means perspiration passes right through. This is what makes the membrane breathable.

WATERPROOF

The microscopic pores on the membrane are 20,000 times smaller than a water droplet, which means water droplets can't pass through.

KNITTING

RIB, PLAITED, PLAIN OR CABLE KNIT.
THE WINTER BEANIE CAN BECOME A VERSATILE ACCESSORY, FITTING IN WITH ANY TYPE OF USE AND STYLE.

KNIT FABRIC, A PRODUCTION PROCESS KNOWN SINCE ANCIENT TIMES.

For centuries, since ancient times, knitting was done by hand using knitting needles. Its typical great elasticity irrespective of the type of yarn used and high porosity make knit fabric unique and different from all others.

The elasticity is due to the fact that the interlocked knitted threads act like a spring, giving way under tension then returning to their initial position as soon as the tension ends.
